DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Application

Receipt is acknowledged of the Request for Continued Examination (RCE) under 37 C.F.R. 1.114 and Amendment filed 03/15/10. In view of the newly submitted claims (35-43), the following election of species is now being required.

Claims 25, 30-32 and 34-43 are pending in this action. Claims 25, 30-32 and 34-43 are subject to a Restriction/Election requirement.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Election of Polymeric Material:

- (a) polyurethane
- (b) polyvinyl alcohol
- (c) ethylene-vinyl alcohol copolymer

The species are independent or distinct because each of the polymeric materials claimed entail unique characteristics and properties (i.e., different rates of release), which would impart distinct effects and results, dependent upon the particular polymeric material employed. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, or a single grouping of patentably indistinct species, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 25 is generic.

There is a search and/or examination burden for the patentably distinct species as set forth above because at least the following reason(s) apply:

Each of the distinct species claimed is capable of supporting a separate patent within the art. Each of the distinct species claimed entail unique characteristics and properties and would require completely different searches in both patent- and non-patent databases, and there is no expectation that the searches would be coextensive in scope. This creates an undue search burden upon the Examiner.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or a grouping of patentably indistinct species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species, or groupings of patentably indistinct species from which election is required, are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing them to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Because the above restriction/election is complex, a telephone call to applicants to request an oral election was not made. See MPEP 812.01.
